

Harwell – Quality Aspects of Construction Projects - 11 March 2015

RSRL hosted a CQI Nuclear Special Interest Group event on 11 March at Harwell on Quality aspects of nuclear construction projects. There was considerable interest in the event from across the nuclear industry with around 70 people attending including staff from both RSRL and Magnox.

Presentations covered a number of topics including the Harwell ILW Store Project, AWE construction project experience, regulatory (ONR) expectations and the new build (Horizon Nuclear Power) perspective. There was also a thought provoking presentation on communication of requirements based on the application of pharmaceutical industry standards at AWE. Feedback about the event from attendees has been very positive.
